THE SUBJECT INDEX

The Subject Index consists of permuted, keyword supplemented titles, i.e., significant words from the author's title plus supplemental pertinent keywords added by editorial subject specialists.

Modifying words appear on each side of the alphabetically indexed keyword and each listing is keyed to a corresponding reference number. Reference numbers with the prefix 55 or 56 refer to the "Abstracts" section and those with the prefix 73 refer to the "Bibliography" section.

Example:

SILKWORM BOMBYX-MORI/ NUTRITIONAL STUDIES ON EXCESSIVE LARVAL 55-11544

modifying phrase — alphabetical keyword/ index term — modifying phrase — designates abstracts section — reference no.

The keyword additions generally pertain to the organism (common and/or Latin name), drugs and their affiliations, specific types of chemicals (e.g., pesticides, carcinogens, teratogens, etc.) and their affiliations, instrumentation, methodology, geographic location and other supplementary index terms where applicable.

Certain lengthy keywords, including chemicals and chemical and drug affiliations which frequently appear in the titles, are abbreviated. Drugs are classified by their pharmacological effects and affiliated in abbreviated from according to the categories listed in the 17th edition of the United States Pharmacopeia.

Example:

index term — abstract or reference #

ON HIND GUT OF PERIPLANETA-AMERICANA BY WARFARIN METAB-DRUG 73-07521

modifying phrase — specific drug affiliation

The index is in sequence by IBM-370 collating convention. The computer alphabet follows the sequence A to Z. The numbering sequence 0 to 9 follows at the end of the alphabet. In a combination such as 2 4-D, the entry is indexed following the last entry under Z.

For an explanation and complete listing of all abbreviations used in the subject index, see the "Abbreviations for 1973 ABSTRACTS OF ENTOMOLOGY" located in the front section of each issue.
